Charlie Wilcox's Great War by Sharon E. McKay
PZ 7 .M33 CH 2003
The year is 1918. Charlie Wilcox, now 17 years old, tall, broad and mature beyond his years, returns home to Brigus, Newfoundland. He is a man now, his childhood left behind on the battlefields of France and Belgium. And he is burdened by a secret, one he fears will inflict terrible grief on the village and people he loves—people who have already suffered so much because of the Great War.

Fathom Five by Robert Westall
PZ 7 .W51953 Fa 1995
Sixteen-year-old Chas McGill, inveterate collector of war souvenirs, has just found a strange contraption washed up on the beach after a U-boat attack. Is it a detonator? Could it be some sort of tracking device? Chas thinks it might be a radio transmitter that a spy is using to sabotage shipments in the local harbor – and he's determined to prove it. With the help of his cynical best friend, Cem, Chas manages to uncover real, hard-core evidence of foul play – even murder! Gradually, what began as a "spy vs. spy" adventure turns into something far more serious.

Friend or Foe by Michael Morpurgo
PZ 7 .M82712 Fri 2007
Evacuated from London, David and Tucky feel like the war is a long way away from their new life in the countryside. When a German bomber crashes, the boys feel they should hate the airmen inside. But one of them saves David's life . . .
Lord of the Nutcracker Men By Iain Lawrence
An English boy during World War I comes to believe that the battles he enacts with his toy soldiers control the war his father is fighting on the front.

Machine-Gunners by Robert Westall
With Nazi planes raining bombs on England night after night, every boy in Garmouth has a collection of shrapnel and other war souvenirs. But nothing comes close to the working machine gun Chas McGill pulls out of a downed bomber. While the police search frantically for the missing gun, Chas and his friends build a secret fortress to fight the Germans themselves.

Paper Faces by Rachel Anderson
Although life in London during World War II has been difficult for Dot and her mother, the young girl is frightened by the changes that the end of the war brings, particularly the impending return of the father she has never known.

Proud as a Peacock, Brave as a Lion by Jane Barclay
A gentle and caring grandpa answers his grandson's questions about what it was like to serve in the war. As the two make a game of preparing for a memorial service, the child comes to understand the importance of the solemn occasion and the act of remembering.

Remembrance by Theresa Breslin
The destinies of two Scottish families, one of shopkeepers and one of wealth and power, become entwined through their involvement in World War I, social causes, and love.

Silver Threads by Marsha Forchuk Skrypuch
Silver Threads is the magical story of Anna and Ivan, two young newlyweds who escape poverty and hardship in Ukraine to start a new life on the Canadian frontier. As they struggle to build their homestead, World War I breaks out. And when Ivan volunteers to fight for his new homeland, tragedy strikes. While Anna works and waits alone, hope comes from an unexpected source. Based on true events, Silver Threads is a stirring lesson in history and a heartwarming tale of love and faith.
