Sawdust Carpets by Amelia Lau Carling
PZ 7 .C2165 Sa 2005
The Lau Family have been invited to spend Easter with their cousins in Antigua, Guatemala. Though they are Chinese and Buddhist, Mami loves the pageantry of Easter. Antigua is renowned for its Easter processions, in which very old statues are carried through the streets. Even more striking is the creation of spectacular sawdust carpets, which people spend hours creating, only to see them disappear as the processions walk over them. Guatemalan and Chinese religious observances, the Virgin of Guadalupe and the Goddess Kuan Yin, Easter processions and dragon boat races, pinatas and baptisms and Chinese tamales all weave in and out of this story about beauty, religious celebration and tolerance.

Borka: The Adventures of a Goose With No Feathers by John Burningham
PZ 7 .B936BO 2003
Once upon a time there were two geese called Mr and Mrs Plumpster. Each Spring they returned to the marshes of their ancestors, and Mrs Plumpster laid her eggs. Soon six fine young Plumpsters hatched: Archie, Freda, Jennifer, Oswald, Timothy and Borka. But Borka was different. Borka had no feathers and could not fly. When winter came the other geese flew off in search of warmer climates, leaving Borka all alone. But her adventure was only just beginning.
