Local Interest Collection: Library Catalogue Tutorial
Start on the Okanagan College homepage and navigate to the library website.
Click on the “Books & Media” tab.
To enter the catalogue, enter your search terms and click “Search.”
With your initial search, you will get a list of all the items in all of the libraries at the different campuses.

To limit your search to only items in the Local Interest Collection, click “Search” at the top of the screen.
Go to the “Advanced” tab.
Enter your search terms like before.

In the dropdown menu next to Location, select “Local Interest Collection,” then click “Search” at the bottom.
There are fewer results than before, because now the list only shows items in the Local Interest Collection.

In this screen, the location is called “Special Collections.” This means the same place. Click on an item’s title to see more information.
This page will give you information about the item, like its full Title, Author(s), and Publication Date.

This is information about where the item lives: in this case, it is in the Local Interest Collection in the BX section (near other books on the same topic).
Sometimes, the library will have more than one copy of a book. Click on one that says “multiple holdings available.”
There is a copy of this book in the Local Interest Collection, but the Kelowna, Penticton, and Salmon Arm Circulating Collections (the books on the shelves that you can borrow) also have copies that you can check out.

You can “make a request,” or put the book on hold, if you would like to borrow it, or come in to the library and locate it on the shelf.
